Bob concentrates his practice in the areas of commercial litigation, business bankruptcy and business planning. He represents businesses and business owners in a diverse range of matters including directors' and officers' liability, contract disputes, and general business disputes. Bob is one of Nashville's "go to" lawyers for bet-the-company litigation. When everything is on the line, Bob can lead your team to success.

A portion of Bob's practice is devoted to representing debtors, creditors, creditors' committees, trustees, and purchasers of assets in Chapter 11 bankruptcy cases. He appears in Bankruptcy Court on matters including stay relief motions, cash collateral litigation, valuation litigation, preference and fraudulent conveyance actions, discharge and dischargeability actions, lease disputes, and contested confirmation hearings.

Bob also acts as outside general counsel for a number of companies. He counsels clients in forming and operating businesses and participates in clients' management teams to formulate policy and strategy. Bob also provides guidance to help clients avoid and resolve disputes and navigate through change management challenges.

Bob graduated from University of Illinois and University of Chicago Law School and is licensed to practice law in Tennessee and Illinois. In addition to his law practice, since September 2015, Bob has represented all of Nashville as a Councilmember-At-Large in Nashville's Metro Council.
